IFYE (International Four-H Youth Exchange)

The IFYE (International 4-H Youth Exchange) program is an in-depth learning experience in which 4-H alumni and other youth live in foreign countries for short or long-term exchanges. Goals of the program are to increase global awareness, develop independent study interests and to improve language skills. IFYE Representatives, ages 19-30, spend three or six months with host families in participating countries. Upon returning to the U.S., IFYEs agree to make presentations to 4-H clubs and other groups throughout Montana. IFYE Ambassadors, ages 15-19, spend four to six summer weeks in a foreign country. Ambassadors travel as a group with chaperones and stay with host families. In 2006, delegates went to Australia for a rural, farm exchange. For more information about the IFYE program, contact Stephanie Davison at (406) 994-3502. Application Deadline: January 1, 2007
